

AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

Please replace Paragraph [0046] with the following paragraph rewritten in amendment format:

[0046] The web (12b) lies between the two flutes (14a and b) into which the channel (36) extends. The web (12b) terminates in a circumferentially central portion of the rearward end of the channel (36). Thus, the web (12b) provides a broken material conveying surface which communicates with the central portion of the channel (36) so as to convey broken material rearwardly out of the channel. Similarly, the web ~~(12b)~~ (12d) separates the flutes (14c and d) into which the channel (38) extends, which web (12d) terminates in a circumferentially central portion of the rearward end of the channel (38).
